

The New York Times

May 26, 2013

Randi Wolfson, Christopher Adamo

Randi Faith Wolfson, a daughter of Ellen Deutch Wolfson and Louis Wolfson III of Coral Gables, Fla., was married Monday evening to Christopher Michael Adamo, the son of Lisa Loria Grassellino of North Bellmore, N.Y., and William G. Adamo of Glendale, Queens.

Richard E. Deutch Jr., who is a Florida notary and a maternal uncle of the bride, officiated at the home of the bride's parents.

On Saturday Cantor Rachelle F. Nelson led a sunset ceremony incorporating Jewish traditions at Los Sueños Marriott Ocean and Golf Resort in Playa Herradura, Costa Rica.

The bride, 29, works in Miami Beach as a vice president of the Audubon House and Tropical Gardens in Key West, Fla., where she manages educational programs, finances and merchandise. Until last year, she was a kindergarten teacher at the Rodeph Sholom School in Manhattan.

In August, the bride is to begin working as an early childhood teacher in the primary school division of the Cushman School, a private school in Miami. She is on the board of the Miami City Ballet.

She graduated from Syracuse University and received a master's degree in early childhood general and special education from Touro College in Manhattan.

The bride's father is a partner in Pinnacle Housing Group in Miami, a real estate development company focusing on moderately priced housing in Florida, Mississippi and Texas.

The bride is a great-granddaughter of Mitchell Wolfson, who in 1925 co-founded what became Wometco Enterprises, an entertainment company that eventually included movie theaters, radio, television and cable operations as well as the Miami Seaquarium. Mr. Wolfson was a founder of Miami Dade College. The Mitchell Wolfson Family Foundation runs the Audubon House.

The groom, 32, is a regional account manager in Miami for 1800flowers.com. He graduated from the State University of New York at Binghamton, from which he also received an M.B.A. degree.

The groom's mother is a hairstylist at Lumara Salon and Day Spa in Massapequa, N.Y. Until 2005, his father was a manager of the Home Depot in Ozone Park, Queens.