

Course Description

TSL3521 | ESOL II Communication and Culture | 3.00 Credits

This course provides an overview of topics related to the field of cross cultural studies and implications for instruction. The students will learn to plan and implement curriculum, instruction, and assessment activities to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse learners. Fifteen hours of field experience required.

Course Competencies:

Competency 1: The student will Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of cross-cultural studies and their impact on instructional practices by:

1. Understanding of Cross-Cultural Studies and Implications for Instruction
2. Analyzing the implications of cultural and linguistic diversity on curriculum, instruction, and assessment activities.

Competency 2: The student will a curriculum Planning and Implementation for Diverse Learners by:

1. Developing the ability to plan and implement culturally responsive curriculum, instruction, and assessment activities to meet the needs of diverse learners

Competency 3: The student will apply knowledge of cross-cultural studies to design instructional strategies that promote educational settings by:

1. Practicing different assessments on the field to apply the curriculum activities using the linguistic and cultural aspects of learners in real-world educational settings.
2. Applying theoretical knowledge to practical scenarios, demonstrating the ability to adapt instruction to meet the diverse needs of students through reflection and action research.

Learning Outcomes:

- Communicate effectively using listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills.
- Solve problems using critical and creative thinking and scientific reasoning.
- Formulate strategies to locate, evaluate, and apply information.