Commencement Speaker Reshma Saujani Founder of Girls Who Code, Founder/CEO of Moms First

Reshma Saujani is a leading activist, the founder of Girls Who Code, the founder and CEO of Moms First and the host of My So-Called Midlife with Lemonada Media. She has spent more than a decade building movements to fight for women and girls' economic empowerment, working to close the gender gap in the tech sector, and most recently fighting for the structural changes moms need and deserve including affordable child care and paid leave. She is a New York Times bestselling author of several books including PAY UP: The Future of Women and Work (And Why It's Different Than You Think); Brave, Not Perfect and the Girls Who Code book series.

As a leading voice on women's empowerment, Saujani's 2023 Smith College commencement speech on imposter syndrome has more than 18 million views, and her influential TED talk, "Teach girls bravery, not perfection," has more than 54 million views globally. In 2024, she launched My So-Called Midlife, a podcast with Lemonada Media that quickly entered Apple's Top 10 show chart, reached No. 1 in Health and Fitness and was named one of the best new podcasts of the year by TIME magazine. Saujani began her career as an attorney and Democratic organizer. In 2010, she surged onto the political scene as the first Indian American woman to run for U.S. Congress. Saujani lives in New York City with her husband, Nihal, their sons, Shaan and Sai, and their dog Steve.

Pledge of Allegiance

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands,
one nation under God, indivisible,
with liberty and justice for all.

The Star-Spangled Banner by Francis Scott Key

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

The Ceremonial Mace

North Campus Mathematics Professor and Endowed Teaching Chair Lourdes España will carry the mace and lead the procession. The use of the mace dates back to the middle ages, when it was carried in processions of many kinds as an ensign of authority. Medieval university officials used the mace at commencement and on other ceremonial occasions. Though we have added unique and contemporary highlights to our commencement ceremony, we join hundreds of colleges and universities worldwide whose processions continue to uphold formal aspects of ceremonies from the past, including the mace.

Special Acknowledgments

College graduation represents the completion of one step in a lifelong process of learning. This step was achieved with the leadership and dedication of highly talented faculty and hard-working staff at North, Hialeah and West Campuses. The contribution and encouragement of students' families are also vitally important in this process of learning. A special recognition is extended to all those who have in any way aided North, Hialeah and West Campus students in reaching this significant milestone.

Academic Regalia

Lending color to the pageantry of the commencement exercise are the academic robes and hoods worn by the faculty. These regalia harken back to the Middle Ages, when they served an ornamental and functional role of separating the learned from other groups, while offering warmth and protection.

In late 19th century America, a conference was held by representatives of colleges and universities to bring some order to the custom of academic dress. Since then, there have been periodic conferences to revise or reconfirm existing practices.

Holders of the bachelor's degree wear unadorned black robes. Holders of the master's degree wear hoods lined with the colors of the college conferring the degree and trimmed with the color representing the subject in which the degree was earned. The doctoral robe is adorned with velvet and is also worn with the hood suitably ornamented.

Holders of degrees from foreign universities or religious orders wear the entire academic costume as decreed by the conferring institution.

The following list reflects the colors which will be found on the hoods worn in the academic procession at the commencement exercise and the subject each color represents.
